

How do I create a new page in a course?

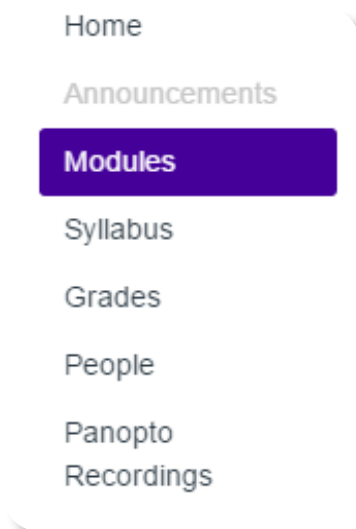

As an instructor, you can create a new page to add to your course.

When creating pages, you can set page permissions as to who can edit the page: instructors (teachers), instructors and students, or anyone.

Note: The Content Selector in Pages is currently associated with an account-level feature option that includes visual style updates and content section pagination. However, the overall functionality of the Content Selector is the same. The Content Selector view available to you is determined by your institution.

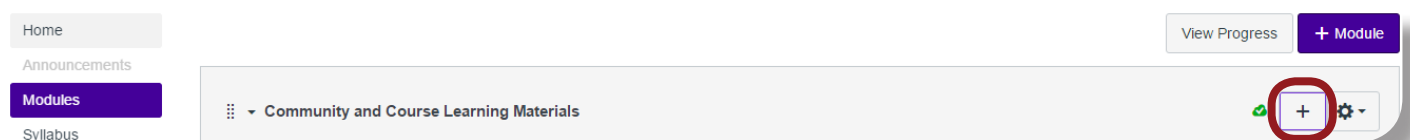

Open Modules

In Course Navigation, click the Modules link.

Cancel Add Item [4]

Click on the Page Name in the module

Click Edit.

Add Content

Type a name for your page [1]. Add content to your page using the Content Selector [2]. Edit the content and add links and media using the Rich Content Editor [3] or switch to the HTML Editor.

Edit Page Settings

You can decide who can edit the page by selecting the Who can edit this page drop down menu [1]. Options include only teachers, teachers and students, or anyone. You can also notify users that content has changed by selecting the Notify users that this content has changed checkbox [2].

Save and Publish

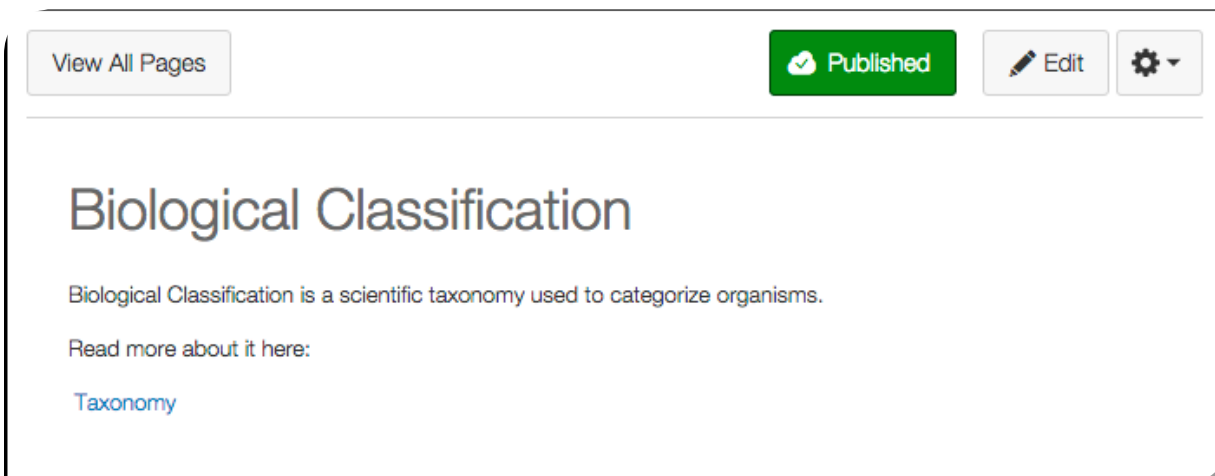

If you are ready to publish your page, click the Save & Publish button [1]. If you want to create a draft of your page, click the Save button [2].

Note: If you try to navigate away from a page without saving, you will generate a pop-up warning.

When your page is saved in a draft state, you can return to the page and publish it at any time by clicking the Publish button [1]. The button will change from gray to green [2].
