IDEAL PROGRAM
COURSE SYLLABUS

Please read the following course syllabus carefully, especially the course dates, times and location. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to communicate with the IDEAL Program office, your academic advisor, or the instructor.

The IDEAL degree-completion program is designed with the adult learner in mind. Adult learners approach learning with specific goals, want to be able to directly apply new learning to their work and personal lives, and tend to learn best when the coursework is problem-centered so that they are actively engaged in the learning process. In addition, adults bring rich and varied experience to the classroom, which becomes a valuable learning resource for other students.

The IDEAL Program assumes joint responsibility in the learning process. The activities and assignments in the courses build on the shared experience of all learners in each class. This is why each student’s preparation, participation and interaction in class activities and discussions are critical to the success of each course. The accelerated format of each course requires a significant amount your time outside the classroom to prepare for and complete the course assignments. This varies between students and courses; however, students typically spend nine-twelve hours per week on course material.

To participate in the IDEAL Program, it is expected that you will do the following:

1. Attend every class session. Be on time.
2. Obtain the required course materials prior to the first class session.
3. Complete the first assignment prior to the first class session and all subsequent assignments to the best of your ability.
4. Participate in the class discussions and demonstrate respect and consideration to the instructor and other students when they express themselves in discussion.

If you cannot perform these four expectations, it is recommended that you drop the course. We look forward to your academic success in each course and the ultimate completion of your degree.

It is the student’s responsibility to familiarize himself or herself with and adhere to the standards set forth in the policies on cheating and plagiarism as defined in Chapters 2 and 5 of the Key to UB http://www.bridgeport.edu/pages/2623.asp or the appropriate graduate program handbook.
Course No. & Title:   SOC 270 ID3, Sociology of Deviance
Semester and Term:   2015 FALL
Day and Dates:   Tuesdays, 11/3/2015 – 12/1/2015
Time:   6pm – 10pm
Campus Location:   Bridgeport

Course Description: Specialization into deviance; social typing; deviant subcultures; deviant identity; accommodation to deviance; public and informal regulation of deviance; treatment approaches to deviance; theoretical frameworks. Implications for policy-making.
Prerequisite Course: SOC 101 or 102
Course Code: CJ-C, HS-PE, LA, SS, SsC, HSM

This course applies the sociological imagination to explore deviant behavior (rule breaking). Students will be introduced to different definitions of deviance as well as the various theories postulated to explain the causation of deviance. The major assumptions, concepts and propositions of each theoretical perspective will be noted. Students will conduct a research project to examine the dynamics of deviance in society.

Upon completion of this course students should be able to apply theories of deviance to their practical experiences at their community based learning site. For example, when observing subjects designated as deviants, students should be able to identify facts supportive or contradictory of the various theories (students gaining this ability usually earn an “A”).

Research and Reflection Evaluation RUBRIC

Evaluating academic reflection journals is as challenging as evaluating class discussions and other course work performed in the traditional class setting. Other than for an easily quantifiable quiz, it is difficult to offer simple and objective evaluation criteria. What follows is a rubric that has proven to be a useful guide in evaluating your reflection and research papers.

The instructor will be using the following grading scale:

1. Journal entries which meet the demands of the assignment will be graded with a B+ or B. These assignments will include at least the following:

   - Each entry is posted and/or paper is received on time (a hard copy is brought to class each week).
   - Opinions, comments, and observations are offered in depth (avoid brief comments in telegraphic style; no "how r u, gr8" for how are you, great"). This does not mean that everything you write should be longgggg.
   - Reflection assertions must relate clearly and directly to the readings (including "direct quotes" from the assigned readings to support your position).
   - Your journal entries must indicate an understanding of the issues.
   - Generally, your reflection journal entries should seek to further the discussion on key issues.

2. Journal entries which go beyond the demands of the assignment will be graded with an A or A-. These assignments will include all of the requirements for a B or B+ above. In addition, A or A- entries and papers will:

   - Show deeper analytical or inferential thinking, demonstrating insightful understandings.
   - Offer comments that are particularly perceptive, while they are also supported with direct quotes from the readings.
   - Provide strong, precise, and thoughtfully selected support for assertions.
   - Synthesize and evaluate experiences related to course topics and/or issues of importance as described in our course objectives.
   - Propose changes and relate material to person experience demonstrating an ability to apply the material to propose solutions and/or advocate for unheard voices related to social inequities and justice issues.
   - Pose good questions (i.e., questions that further discussion and reflection).
   - Link to topics/issues from earlier readings [from this course and/or other courses] and current readings/web resources.
3. Journal entries which do not meet the demands of the assignment will be graded with a B-, C+, C, or D. Although it is NOT expected that these types of assignments will be created, it is likely that they would:

- Arrive late or contain insufficient details, or
- Not be clear or understandable, or
- Not use direct quotes from the assigned readings or not relate to these readings or other Internet resources in an appropriate and/or thoughtful way [or misrepresent them], or
- Contain only detailed description of local experiences with no evidence of reflection or synthesis, or
- Contain only opinion, with no descriptive details or supporting quotes from theory or research.

Please note that it is important to check your work for spelling and grammatical correctness.

ACADEMIC POLICIES

Attendance Policy
Classroom attendance is an integral part of the academic experience; therefore, students are expected to attend all class sessions. If an absence is unavoidable, the student, prior to class, should communicate with the instructor. Arrangements should be made at that time for submission of any missed assignments. It is also expected that students arrive on time and not leave until the class is dismissed. Tardiness will result in a reduced grade for the course. If you cannot attend every class session you should consider dropping the course.

IMPORTANT:
- Missing one class session will drop the final grade by one letter grade (for example if a student earns a grade of “B” in the course, the final grade would be a “C”).
- Missing two or more class sessions will be cause for a failing grade.
- Note: For 15-week courses; missing two class sessions will result in a letter grade drop and three or more will cause a failing grade.

Drop Procedures
To drop a course, you must complete and submit a Schedule Change Request Form. The form can be accessed at the IDEAL Course Schedule webpage: http://www.bridgeport.edu/academics/continuinged/ideal-academic-degree-programs-and-certificates/ideal-course-schedule/.

Please print and complete the form and fax the form to the IDEAL Office: 203-576-4537. Prior to dropping a course, the student should contact their IDEAL Academic Advisor to understand the implications to financial aid and/or degree plan progress.
Please review the drop fees and tuition refunds at the Academic Calendar; accessed at the IDEAL Course Schedule webpage (same link above).

Cell Phones
Cell phones must be turned off (or placed on “vibrate”) while in the classroom. A cell phone call is disruptive and disrespectful to the other students in the class.

Academic Dishonesty
The IDEAL program prohibits all forms of academic dishonesty. Academic dishonesty is normally defined as, but not limited to, the following two categories:

Cheating – Using inappropriate sources of information in an assignment or on a test. The following are examples of cheating taken from real student experiences:

Case #1: A student is enrolled in an introductory psychology course. He has co-workers who have taken the same course. As the end of the course approaches, he wonders how he will find the time to get the research paper finished, and asks one of his co-workers for help. His co-worker hands him a research paper that he submitted in a similar course. The student makes minor modifications to the paper, and submits it under his own name.

Case #2: A student enrolled in a humanities course is unsure about how to structure an essay. She is doing research on the World Wide Web, and comes across an essay written by a student from another university. Using her computer mouse, she copies and pastes the essay into her word processor. She goes to great lengths to re-word the paper in her own style, but essentially leaves the content and organization the same.

Plagiarism – Intentional as well as unintentional failure to acknowledge sources as well as the use of commercially available so-called “research papers” without full recognition of the source. Presenting as one’s own, the ideas, words, or products of another. The following are examples of plagiarism taken from real student experiences:

Case #3: A student is conducting research for a Civil War research paper. He has reviewed work on the Internet. Finding helpful information, he has summarized his findings without citing his sources. He believes that minor paraphrasing is all that is necessary.

Case #4: A student is writing a paper that requires her to address specific topics and problems in the assigned course textbook. She takes the information directly from the textbook with slight modification, without giving any citation. She thinks that since it is the course textbook, she doesn’t have to use quotations or citations.

Academic dishonesty applies to all courses, assignments or exams completed by students and submitted as their own original work, whether in person or by electronic means. The University does not tolerate cheating in any form. It is a serious breach of conduct with serious consequences. Instructors have the right to determine the appropriate penalty for academic dishonesty in their own courses; generally, however, such acts will result in a failing grade for the assignment and/or the course. The penalty for subsequent acts of academic dishonesty may include expulsion.
More information on how to recognize plagiarism can be found at this site: http://www.indiana.edu/~istd/plagiarism_test.html

Ethics Statement of Confidentiality
An integral component of an IDEAL course is student and faculty expression of personal experiences for the purpose of facilitating coursework. Students enrolled in the program are expected to honor confidentiality as it pertains to student disclosure. Shared information, comments, or opinions expressed by another student or the faculty member during the course of classroom discussion should never be used in a manner which is intended to humiliate, embarrass, harass, damage, or otherwise injure other students in their personal, public, or business lives. In addition, confidentiality must be upheld by not disclosing any information that would identify any particular individual.

ACADEMIC RESOURCE CENTER

The Academic Resource Center is available for IDEAL students seeking help in their studies. The Center is staffed by writing professionals and peer tutors. More information can be found at: http://www.bridgeport.edu/pages/2209.asp. The Center is located on the 5th Floor of the Wahlstrom Library. Make an appointment or walk-in: Telephone: 203-576-4290. Online Tutoring is available at: www.etutoring.org. To use this free service you must have a UBNet account.

Obtaining a UBNet Account
Every registered student should obtain a UBNet Account. The account allows you to access MyUB; the portal for grades, library services, Canvas online learning system. Also, the account allows you access to computers in the Library and computer labs, and provides an email account in which the University sends out information. Go to: http://www.bridgeport.edu/ubnet - Click on “New UBNet Account” and follow the instructions.

The @bridgeport.edu email address is the official email the University uses to send information to you. You can have your bridgeport.edu email forwarded to any other private email account you use. Following the activation of your UBNet account (takes 24 hours), login at: http://www.bridgeport.edu/email and click on “forwards” at the top of the page. Follow the directions to forward email messages to your other account.

Learning Management System (LMS) - Canvas
For all courses that use Canvas, you can access Canvas through the portal by using the myUB link. Faculty post class documents on Canvas e.g. syllabus, power points, discussion questions, case studies, current event articles, papers, reports etc. (save some trees). All students have access, and can download and copy the documents.
