Train for a rewarding and in-demand career from anywhere

As society becomes more globally connected, the need for criminal justice professionals trained in the human and technological aspects of criminality is growing. Criminal justice professionals rise to meet the challenge of addressing domestic and international public safety concerns every day — earning the trust of their communities and the respect of their families, friends, and neighbors. University of Bridgeport’s online bachelor’s degree in Criminal Justice is designed to allow you ultimate flexibility while working toward a career protecting your community.

Gain a comprehensive knowledge of domestic and international security

In this program, you’ll gain an in-depth understanding of the institutions and laws that govern all levels of our legal system. Given the geopolitical landscape of our modern world, you’ll study the important issues affecting policing today along with how the field has developed over time. You’ll also explore the ethical and legal issues faced by criminal justice professionals as you learn to see the blind spots and major social issues that influence public safety and human security. Our program will prepare you to enter a number of roles with the necessary skills to achieve your career goals.

Tailor your degree based on your interests and career goals

As you earn your degree, you’ll work with experts in the field, including police commanders, detectives, state troopers, military veterans, attorneys, and other human security professionals to develop the critical thinking skills necessary to work in modern law enforcement, security, or emergency response.
